

An AUP is a way not only for teachers, but for students to know what is and isn't expected in the classroom. Parents, I am urging you to create your own AUP for your home to allow students to understand what is expected from them when they are using technology at home or at school. Having an acceptable use policy at home can be useful in establishing a set of rules and guidelines for your child to follow at home. I look forward to getting to know you and your children. Below is a blank template that you can fill out for you home AUP. Please fill out and Thank you for your collaboration in advance!

- Students will not be able to use technology in the classroom until this document has been signed on all pages and turned back into the teacher.
