Synopsis of what you are doing

Students will get into groups of four and take turns reading the pages of the book to learn about online safety. Then each group will create a padlet and add all the ways they can stay safe when using their computers. They will also add things that they should not do with school's computers during class. Then, each group will create a scenario either ways to use computers or ways not to use a computer and act them out in front of the class.
