Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is taking someone else's work and saying it is yours. Plagiarism could be copying something from a book, website, or friend. In this class, that will not be allowed. If you are caught plagiarizing, you will not receive any credit for the work and possibly other consequences. For more information on plagiarism, please see my website.

Copyright:

Copyright is someone's right to their work and they can decide if someone else can use it or not. Fair use policies though give some leeway and means we can use some things that are copyrighted. If you are unsure about using something, just ask and we will find out! For more information on Copyrights and Fair Use Policies, please see my website.

If you break a rule:

1. If you break a rule, the first time you will receive a warning.

3. If you break one of the internet rules, then you will lose internet privileges for the rest of the day.
4. Miss Ashton has the right to change the consequences depending on the situation.
5. Miss Ashton will send home a behavioral sheet every day to let parents/guardians aware of the child's behavioral activities at school.
