Description: This app is focused on teaching students how to write their letters. It takes the student step by step of how to write each letter. It has them trace a letter with their finger. It also makes you do it in a certain order to get the letter correct. Once you have mastered one letter then you can move on to the next letter of the alphabet. It tells you the sounds the letter makes and shows you an example of things that start with that letter as well.

Impressions: We think that this app is worth using in the classroom for kindergarten especially. To learn how to write their letters. It makes them trace the letters specifically, so it teaches the student to do it correctly. The only downfall to this app is that since it is a free app, there are ads every five seconds. It can get annoying and hard to navigate. It would also cause you to watch the student and make sure they don't download or get off of the app.
