
Mimo

- Version: 3.20
- Publisher: Mimohello GmbH
- Target Audience: Middle School
- Curriculum: This app is a great way to learn coding.
- Cost: The app does have a 7-day free trial. After that, one month is $9.99 or a year is $29.99.
- Describing the Software: It is kid-friendly and looks fun. It mainly has a robot that helps show you around. It provides a lot of easy questions to figure out your skill level of coding.
- Impressions of the Software: This app is definitely meant for middle school aged children. It was a little difficult to navigate, only because we aren't skilled in coding. We did like how it took us through step by step to figure out the easy mode.
- Pass: This software does pass because everything inside the app was informational and educational. The price is a little steep compared to others, but had great tutorials.
