Publisher: Apikrit Panichevaluk

Version: 2.5

Target Audience

This app is a tool app. The age rating is 4+, but we think it will be good for students beginning at age 7 because they will have a better understanding of the words provided.

Curriculum

These words are very educational and academic-friendly. They could be used for games or for class assignments for Reading, Writing, and Language Arts.

Cost

The app is free and for individual users.

Software

This app is simply a word generator that sparks creativity. By pressing the “random” button in the bottom left corner, it gives 3 words for students to use to unleash new ideas, brainstorm, plan, or find things to write about in essays or assignments. It provides them with synonyms or antonyms to enhance their vocabulary when writing and teaches them bigger words.

Impressions

We loved this app and thought it was simple but effective. Because lots of young students are still in the process of cultivating their writing skills, it can be easy for them to experience writer’s block. Because of this, this app can supply them with words to help them brainstorm about topics to write about, points they would like to use, or even using words to enhance their essays. We would definitely use this app for these purposes in our classrooms. It could also help them with becoming better spellers. The only thing that we did not enjoy was the many ads that would pop up after pressing the “Random” button every 4-5 times.

Does the software pass?

This app passes because it allows students to be creative and use the words in whatever way that they desire to better their writing skills.
