

Acceptable Use Policy for Home

Dear Parents and/or Guardians,

Having an Acceptable Use Policy at home is a great way to hold your child accountable and provide a written form of rules they need to follow. It allows for both the parents and the children to be on the same page. For my classroom I like to use an Acceptable Use Policy so that the children and parents/guardians know what the expectations and rules are for the school year. I have provided a AUP template for you and your child to work together on. This can outline your child's homework policy, chores, internet usage, inside/outside rules, and other important rules.

Ms. Britney

Homework Policy:

Chores:

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

Internet Usage:

Inside Rules:

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

Outside Rules:

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

Parent Signature: _____

Child Signature: _____

