Title: Cosmic Kids

Version: 5.902.1

Publisher: Cosmic Kids

Target audience: Ages 4-11

Curriculum: It could be used to teach students about mindfulness. It could also be used during a physical education lesson or during a day when recess is inside.

Cost: a free app with in-app purchases monthly $9.99 yearly $64.99

Types of software: It could be a tool or discovery learning type of software. It could be used if the students cannot go outside for recess or if they just need to move around. Discovery learning could be the software if the student wants to learn or do something specific and they choose the video.

When you open the app you login and pay for it you can see the videos. You can also press explore and see the different videos available if you pay for the app. It is like YouTube, and some of the videos are on YouTube and you do not have to pay to watch them. You can see the different types of videos such as educational, yoga disco, videos in Spanish, mindfulness, and more. At the bottom of the screen there is a bar where you can click on search to search for videos, a library which is where you can add videos to watch again, and where you can view your profile.

It is a pretty straightforward app, you open it and sign in and you can then view whatever videos you want. You can search for videos and add them to your library to watch later. The videos are kid
