Title: Padlet (Tool)

Version: Padlet – Only version (version 72.0)

Publisher: Wallwisher, Inc.

Target Audience: 4+. Though this app is said to be 4+, there is somewhat a disagreement about that. We all found this app somewhat confusing to navigate, and though I'm sure it can be suitable for 4+, we feel like it's necessary to be significantly older to have a thorough understanding and use of this app. This app works on the iPad, iPhone, iPod touch.

Curriculums: This can be used to implement and integrate group work in the classroom. This app makes collaboration very easy to integrate. This app can be used for anything and everything. From to-do lists, to opinion forums, to writing prompts, anything! It can be used to gather information and assessments from students on certain concepts, or maybe even opinions about certain matters. This app can be used to create various projects in the classroom so that others are able to collaborate and work together.

Possible Environments and Why: This app is great for the classroom environment. It can be used by the student (if appropriate age) or can be used by the teacher. For the classroom, this app is great for projects. Padlet allows you to create presentations, note-taking, writing prompts, so many things that are all necessary and easy to use for the classroom! This app can be used for various organizational purposes for home, such as making lists and blogs.

Cost: Free, but 12.99 a month if chosen to upgrade

Software: The software has many options and abilities. This software gives individuals a chance to create pretty much anything they want and be able to share it with others. It helps to spread information on certain matters that can be beneficial to others. This software offers a broad opportunity to learn and be informed on various topics. With many options at your fingertips, it's possible to share and create whatever you want with others and allows you to organize and create it any way you want.

Impressions of Software & used in Class: This app is very overwhelming, but could be helpful to do virtually anything in the classroom. From notetaking, creating projects, seriously anything! Though it can be very helpful, it is very confusing to navigate. Through time and practice, it would be easier to get the hang of it, but it is very confusing and it's just a lot to see and navigate through. The design was excellent, very appealing, just a lot of stuff packed into one app. The app says it's 4+, but a student must be significantly older to be able to navigate and work this app effectively. One review mentioned that the app was not easy to use, which is very relatable. Good app, great options and potential, just very confusing.

Does Software Pass: Yes
