Parent AUP

Parents/Guardians,

     Acceptable Use Policies (AUP) are very important for the classroom because it sets rules and consequences for our classroom, as well as those for the use of the technology. I recommend you consider using AUPs at home as well so that your child becomes familiar with the rule and consequences. Doing this will help to put your child in good technology and internet habits.

     You may use the same rules and consequences I have put on my classroom AUP or you and your child can create your own at home AUP. Here is a small suggestion on how you could lay it out so that both you and your child can sit down and do this if you choose to:

Rules at Home:	Rules When Using Technology at Home:	Rules When Using the Internet at Home:
• • • • •	• • • • •	• • • • •

 If you have any questions or concerns you may contact me by email at emilee.boozer@smail.astate.edu.

Thank you,
Ms. Emilee