GoNoodle

GoNoodles latest version is 3.3.0 and it was updated to fix minor bugs and add a few improvements. The publisher/producer is GoNoodle, Inc. The target audience is kids ages 4 and up, and it is a discovery learning software.

GoNoodle is a more of an entertaining rather than an educational app. Although it does have some educational videos most of the videos are entertainment. In my opinion it would be hard to integrate GoNoodle into curriculum because of the lack of educational videos that it contains. As for the cost go noodle is free to download and there are no in app purchases.

Go noodle is a very colorfully animated resource for videos. The videos range in topics and can be used in several different situations in a classroom setting, such as brain brakes or transitional videos.  These videos could also be used to help improve the mood of a classroom if there was a very negative attitude in the room a funny video is a great way to light in the mood and get back to focusing on learning.

To me this app compares well to YouTube, but it has only content that is appropriate for children. This app also contains a section with videos that are available in Spanish this is another thing that could help in a classroom setting if you were to have ESL students.
