

Monthly Recap: April Addition

Student Spotlights:

- Johnny painted an encouragement rock
- Sally Mae and Tara made friendship bracelets in art class
- Debra made a 100 on her unit test
- Alexander said his ABCs backwards
- All students finished their homework this month!

Concluding our Dystopian Unit!

Our unit "Dystopian Societies: Perfect Injustice in Imperfect Worlds" wrapped up this month! The students had the opportunity read Dystopian Literature, explore injustice, and create their own dystopian society with their group! It has been so fun to watch my students expand their knowledge and find passion for reading.

Top 3 Books of the month:

- Divergent (Veronica Roth)
- The Maze Runner (James Dashner)
- Piecing Me Together (Renee Watson)

Dystopian Society Night at the Public Library:

My students had a great time displaying their dystopian projects for their parents and the community at our Dystopian Society Night! They have been working so hard on their projects, and I'm so glad they got to show off what they've learned during this unit.
