App #6

| Title: | codeSpark Academy: Kids Coding |
|---|---|
| Version: | 2.36.00 |
| Publishers/producers: | codeSpark |
| Target Audience: | For children between the ages of 4-10 |
| Types of software: | Drill and Practice: children use this app to learn computer programming through games, step-by-step instructions, and puzzles.Tutorial: once starting a new game or strategy children get step-by-step instruction on how to play. |
| Curriculum: | Anyone can use this app including educators, parents, and students. This app is extremely useful in teaching students new learning activities. This app can also help Teachers track their students progress and can turn off and on parts of the app from students. |
| Cost: | It is free from the app store. Once in the app it offers a 7 day free trial then a $9.99/month. Teachers can use this app for free for his/her classroom and even give out codes to specific classrooms to use. |
| Description: | This app can be used to learn coding through games and puzzles for children. There are different levels to go through. Students can also share their gaming process with others on the app. Teachers can use this app in their classroom as well. |
| Impressions: | We love this program. It will be beneficial for any classroom. |
| Pass Apps? | Yes |