

App #7

Title:	Hopscotch-Programming for kids
Version:	3.40.1
Publishers/producers:	Hopscotch Technologies
Target Audience:	Made for children between the ages of 9-11
Types of software:	Drill and Practice: students can play games and learn new ways to make apps. Tutorials: there are video tutorials that educators can use for their classrooms for students to learn from. Discovery Learning: students can do whatever they want on the app. Tools: students can create stories on this app.
Curriculum:	This app is for everyone including teachers, parents, and children. It lets each person enjoy learning.
Cost:	Free from the app store. Once in the app there is a 7 day free trial. There are two subscriptions to choose from $7.99/monthly or $79.99/yearly
Description:	This app is used for learning how to code through fun activities. There are guided video tutorials to learn how to make code or apps. Students can use their own imagination for this app through making stories or art.
Impressions:	This app is very colorful and impressive. It teaches children how to code through fun games, stories, and videos.
Pass Apps?	Yes