

Miss Nowlin's

Acceptable Use Policy

Attention Parents and Guardians!!!

Below I have included some rules for my classroom, rules regarding technology and internet use in class, and the consequences for breaking those rules. I have also included some general information about plagiarism, copyright laws, and fair use policies, as well as a template for your own Acceptable Use Policy at home. I look forward to sharing this school year with you and your children! Please sign and send this document back with your student.

Classroom Rules

- 1. Use kind words
- 2. Have helpful hands
- 3. Tell the truth
- 4. Raise your hand
- 5. Do your best work

Parent Initials

Date

Student Initials

Date

Technology Rules

1. Clean your hands before using any device
2. Stay seated while using any device
3. No food or drink while using any device
4. Wait patiently for your turn
5. Use each device gently with soft hands

Internet Rules

1. Only visit appropriate apps or websites
2. Absolutely NO BULLYING online
3. Don't give out personal information
4. Do not talk to strangers
5. Alert the teacher or an adult if there is a problem

Consequences

The first offense will be handled with a warning to the student.

The second offense will be handled with loss of internet privilege for that day.

The third offense will be handled with the loss of internet privileges for that week and parents will be notified.

 All rules are subject to change depending on class work and students**

Parent Initials

Student Initials

Date

Date

Plagiarism, Copy Right, Fair Use

Plagiarism is the act of using someone's work and not properly giving them credit for the work used. Copy right laws involve how and where certain things may be used. Disney wouldn't be too happy if you were to start selling or advertising something using Mickey Mouse to do so. It's their property and if you were to use it for your financial gain, they'd want claim to some of the profit you made. Fair use allows you to use material without having to first ask permission to do so.

Parent Signature

Date

Student Signature

Date
