

Padlet

Padlet could be used for several audiences. You could use it in a professional setting for a meeting or in a parent night setting. You could even use padlet to teach a lesson in class. Padlet allows you to easily combine all resources into one place. You could use this for parents or students to do a scavenger hunt.

On-Line Tools

Before this project I did not realize how useful online tools could be. The thought of so many online activities and learning tools just sounded useless and like a distraction. Instead, I have found programs that could keep children interested in the subject they are learning. Using technology can enhance your lesson by simply keeping things fresh and keeping your students' attention. I do not necessarily like how for some students it will just be adding screen time onto the amount they are already receiving. For some students it will be perfectly acceptable, but I feel that for others all the get at home is screen time and doing it in the class would just be adding to it. However, for those it may make them more interested and already advance in the matter.
