The school has policies concerning plagiarism, copyright, and fair use. I have taken my rules from the handbook. For more information please check the school handbook or my website.

Plagiarism:

- Using someone else's work and claiming it as your own.
- This includes work that you have done previously.
- Consequences for plagiarism include redoing an assignment or receiving a failing grade on the assignment.

Copyright:

- A creation of someone else's that is protected from theft by law.
- Copyright laws keep us from using parts or all of specific items.
- Breaking copyright laws is illegal and not tolerated in my classroom.

Fair Use:

- Some items that are found on the internet do not use copyright laws.
- These items are fair to use on assignments and in class.
- You must still cite any fair use items, or it will be considered plagiarism.

I have read all rules and consequences and agree to follow them. If I have any questions, I will contact Ms. Webb before the second week of school. Please initial each page and sign below. Due before the second week of school.
