

How To

This how to make a confetti name writing activity is fun for the kids and they will have fun while learning. This helps students to practice writing their name, tracing their name and then gluing and following the lines as they add the confetti. This allows them to be able to turn the confetti in different ways and focus to see how the pieces fit together to cover the letters. This is a good hands on activity that is easy for the students to do at home, by following along to my video.
