Cost:

Free for a majority of the videos. $10/month for the plus subscription which includes more videos, games and printables.

Software Evaluation:

GoNoodle is set up similar to YouTube in its app layout but is way more colorful and interactive. There are rows of videos categorized by subject, channels, features, language, etc. You can even choose a category based on a feeling, like something quiet, dynamite, delicious or stretchy. Most of the videos range from 2-20 minutes long. All of the videos are inclusive and encourage participation.

This app is great for all ages, even adults. It is a good resource for a content topic. It is a good way to release or build up energy. It is easy and fun to navigate, has a wide variety of choices and captivates you with movements and music.
