Title—Total Recall

Version—5.0

Publisher—Michel Neuhaus

Target Audience—Ages 4+

Curriculum(s)—This software could be used for any content area. It can be used to create an organizer or a web. Since it's so vague and doesn't just focus on one specific subject, it can be used for any of them.

Cost—This app is free.

Description of Software—In this software, a student could create a web/map/organizer that can be shared and easily edited. They can also create it from scratch or use a template that the app provides. The templates can be helpful because there are so many different topics that students may specifically need.

Impression of Software—We were both impressed with this software. It isn't very intricate, but it is very simple and easy to navigate so it would be a good app for all ages to use. We liked that it could be used for multiple subjects as well as multiple tasks. We really liked it because of how similar it was to Inspiration.
