Educational Software Write-up

Title- VideoShop

Version- 7.4.7

Publisher- Jajijujejo Inc.

Target Audience- This app has an age rating for people 4 years old and older. However, I think this app should be used by upper elementary and older students.

Curriculum- This app could be used in multiple subjects to create movies and presentations, but most appropriate in language arts or science classes.

Cost- This app is free with no in-app purchases.

Software Description- VideoShop is a video editing app with fast editing tools, filters, etc. You can add music, merge videos, write text, apply filters, and resize things. Students can even add voiceovers to their videos or add animated titles. The videos can be shared on snapchat, Instagram, vimeo, dropbox, whatsapp, or by email.

Software Impression- This app lacks bells and whistles, but has plenty of function as a video editor. I think there are better video editors out there, but videoshop could be okay. Personally, neither of us think we would use this app in our classrooms. Students can create their own videos through the app, but may need supervision when looking for online sources.

Does the app pass? Yes.
