By: Ms. Kailey

One Halloween night, Clara, Matthew, Sarah, Jack, Cade, and Josh all went trick or treating. They wanted to see who could get the most candy.

Josh

After visiting all of the houses on the street, they decided it was time to call in a night. It was time to head to Jack's house to count up their candy, and see who had the most.

Once they got to Jack's house,
they began counting their pieces of candy. They wanted to see who had the most!

Who do you think got the most?

Let's count how many pieces of candy Clara has!

Let's count how many pieces of candy Matthew has!

Let's count how many pieces of candy Sarah has!

Let's count how many pieces of candy Jack has!

Let's count how many pieces of candy Cade has!

Let's count how many pieces of candy Josh has!

After counting up their pieces of candy, they decided it didn't matter who had the most.
All that mattered, was that they had fun trick or treating together.

So they decided to throw all of their candy together into one big pile, and share!

Happy
Halloween!
