

Join Us for Parent Night

Wednesday, December 13th

5:30-7:30

Dear parents,

I am so excited for you to see what we have learned in class and all the science experiments we have performed over the last nine weeks. Students will have the chance to show you what we have learned! We have learned about the water cycle and did an experiment involving water evaporation. We have also learned about all the planets in our solar system and have created commercials using PowerPoint to “sell” each planet to future Earthlings. I am amazed everyday by my students’ creativity, and I know you are, too! So, join us next week for our first annual Parent Night!

Snacks and drinks will be provided!

See you then!

Ms. Nash
