Tools: Google Slides; Inspiration

Synopsis: What are you doing? Students will work in table groups to come up with their own story. This story should be written in sections, each done by a member of the group. Each group will be given a topic to base their story on, and they must work together to finish the story. In order to be able to organize their thoughts, they will create a graphic organizer to brainstorm their ideas. They will use google slides to create their story book. This book must also include illustrations.
