

Acceptable Use Policy For Miss Molly's Third Grade Classroom

Dear Parents/Guardians,

I am so excited for the year ahead! I know that we will accomplish great things together! Before we start getting into everything, there are a few classroom rules and policies that I believe are very important to go over for the students to have a successful year.

Please read over my classroom rules and procedures and make sure to return it signed/initialed to me by Thursday, January 24th!

Parents, please read aloud with student:

Classroom Rules:

1. I will respect my classmates as well as my teacher.
2. I will take care of my classroom and materials.
3. I will raise my hand before speaking and work quietly.
4. I will listen when my teacher is talking and follow directions.
5. I will have fun!

Rules when using technology:

1. I will use the technology only when my teacher approves.
2. I will not damage or mess with the technology that my classmates and I are using.
3. I will only be on technology for the time I am allowed to be. (This could change depending on teacher.)
4. I will not share my passwords with anyone other than my teacher and parents.
5. I will use my technology carefully and responsibly.

Rules when using the Internet:

1. I will not plagiarize or copy anyone's work without citing the source.
2. I will not bully anyone while on the internet.
3. I will not be on any site the teacher does not approve of.
4. If there is a problem, I will come to my teacher for help.
5. There will be a time limit of 35 minutes for the student to use the computer. (Could change depending on teacher.)

Consequences:

Breaking the internet rules can lead to the loss of internet privileges.

Breaking the technology rules can lead to the loss of technology privileges.
Breaking these classroom rules can also lead to consequences depending on what I decide.
Consequences in my classroom include going to the principal's office, getting recess time taken away, or getting strikes.
Strikes include getting a warning (1st offense), losing privileges (2nd offense), and going to the principal's office or teacher contacting parents (3rd offense).

Copyright:

This is the right given to creators of original work to make sure that no one can take it and say it is theirs. This prevents internet users from taking certain work and using it as their own. So, make sure you give credit! 😊

Fair Use:

Fair Use is a doctrine that allows a leeway for students and schools to use certain material for educational purposes.

Plagiarism:

This is when someone takes someone else's work and uses it as their own. Miss Molly does not allow plagiarism in her classroom and wants you to show her your own ideas and work! If she sees any signs of plagiarism, there will be strikes given. (Depending on what she decides.)

If you have any questions or concerns or want to learn more about plagiarism and copyright information, visit my website or email me at molly.james@smail.ataste.edu!

Do not forget to sign and date on the next page!

Thank you for your time!! Let's have a great year!

Students: I will obey Miss Molly's classroom, technology, and internet rules, and I know the consequences for breaking them.
