Subject(s) Focused On: Science

Tools Used: iMovie & YouTube

Synopsis: The teacher will pair the students up and give each pairing a different animal to research. Students will then look up and research different videos regarding their assigned animal. They must then create a video that accurately describes their animal. It can be just words describing their assigned animal or even a few clips of them portraying themselves being the animal. The more work put into the video, the better the grade. This gives students an opportunity to be creative and take something into whatever direction they may want.
