

While teaching the basic functions of math, I will use this video as a means of explaining how to use the flashcards app. This video is somewhat short, but effective.

This app will be used for drill and practice so that my students can freshen up and increase their skill level with the four different functions of math. Big Math Flash Cards is very simple and easy to use and can be used anywhere. I will most likely encourage my students to practice and play while at home the most so they come back to class the next day ready to move on.
