

All About the Flag

BY: MICHAELA
MOORE

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-SA

First thing we do when we get ready to say the Pledge Of Allegiance is stand and look for the flag. We turn towards it to show respect.

Next we place our right across our bodies to the left side. We do this because our heart is located on the left side.

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-NC-ND

After this we say the Pelage of Allegiance.

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-NC-ND

I Pledge Allegiance to the Flag of the United States Of America, and to the republic for which it stands. One nation under God,
inadvisable, for liberty and justice for all

When we are holding the flag it must never touch the ground out of respect for the flag and our country. When we hang or take down the flag. Two or more people have to do it so the flag does not touch the ground.

Whenever we are putting the flag on display it should always be on the right of the person speaking

This is the Arkansas State
Flag.

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-SA

Diamonds on a red field represents the only place in North America where diamonds have been discovered. The twenty-five white stars around the diamond mean that Arkansas was the twenty-fifth state to join the Union. The top of four stars in the center represents that Arkansas was a member of the Confederate States during the Civil War. The other three stars represent Spain, France and the United States, countries that had earlier ruled the land that includes Arkansas.

The background of the slide is a dark red, textured surface. Overlaid on this is a large, semi-transparent image of the Arkansas state flag. The flag is a diamond shape with a blue border containing 25 white stars. Inside the diamond is a tan field with the word "ARKANSAS" in blue capital letters and a blue star in the center.

Did you know we have a salute to the Arkansas flag too?

It is "I salute the Arkansas Flag with its diamond and stars. We pledge our loyalty to thee"

So remember next time you want to do something with one of our flags make sure to show it respect!
