Acceptable Use Policy Template

General Rules-This is where you would place basic rules that you expect your child to follow wherever they are. An example of a general rule might be "treat others the way you want to be treated."

Technology Rules-This is where you would place rules that would govern technology use in your home with your child. It is essential to clarify that technology is not the same as the internet, and these rules are for the actual use of technology or hardware. You might include regulations on how long your child has on a device, or if appliances are limited, rules on sharing.

Internet Rules-These rules are for when your child uses the internet. These rules might include what websites are and are not allowed and communication rules on the internet.

Consequences-This is where you will list punishments that your child can expect if he breaks any of the rules you create.

I _____ choose to follow these rules that my parent(s) have given me and will accept the consequences if I break the expectations I have been given.

_____   _____

            Signature   Date