

Synopsis of Clips How-to Video

Video projects will be integrated into major projects in my future classes. These videos will be investigative in nature, or at the very least provide some visually documented evidence to a claim made by the students. To be successful in these projects, the students will need to know how to use the video editing software that they will be using. This how-to video will be available to students who need instruction on how to make videos using iMovie.
