

Dear Parents,

Acceptable Use Policies create a foundation and structure for behavior, as well as how the student, your child, is expected to perform. Carrying these policies into the home can make your child aware that structure is vital in all areas of life. Expectations of behavior and following rules are not just concepts used in school. Knowing right from wrong and understanding consequences are basic ideas that will aid them through the rest of their lives. I have designed an AUP template similar to the one I created for our classroom. This template is available on my webpage titled 'Home AUP' if you wish to build an AUP for your child at home.

Sincerely,

Miss Rachel
