

On-Line Tools

1. Learn Around The Word

- <http://www.learnaroundtheworld.com/>
- This site allows you to virtually travel to different places
- This site would be wonderful for an introduction to new unit on a place, event, culture, or habitat. Students will get a visual of what we are talking about which will deepen their understanding.

2. ZeeMaps

- <https://www.zeemaps.com/>
- This site allows you to build your own map
- This would be great in classroom learning about distances or how to give directions. You can create your own using your town name.

3. Class Dojo

- <https://www.classdojo.com/>
- This site allows you to keep track of student participation, excellent work, being creative, and helping others
- This would be a great resource for a teacher come time for conferences, a great way to stay organized
