
BrainPOP

Version: 3.1.9 (one of a series)

Publisher: BrainPOP

Target Audience: 4+

Curriculum: This app fits into the curriculum of a regular education classroom because it focuses on a variety of subjects such as science, social studies, English, and math. This app can be used in multiple ways such as a reward, in a lesson plan, or as a specific task.

Cost: It is free to download but with this you can only access the free movies. There are however in-app purchases with two different options. The explorer subscription gives you access to the free featured movie and its quiz plus four additional related movies and quizzes, rotating every day for $2.99/month. The other option is the full access subscription which gives you unlimited access to all of the movies and quizzes for $6.99/month.

Software description: Within this app, users are able to choose a specific subject they would like to focus on. The user will then be directed to movies that involve a variety of topics with the subject area.

Impression of software: Overall this app was very easy to navigate and use. This app was wellbuilt and allows users to learn and review multiple subjects. The one bad aspect is that not all movies are free for users who are not subscribed to BrainPOP.

Does it pass? Yes, this app passes the evaluation.
