

An AUP, acceptable use policy, is a good idea to have at home as well as the classroom. Having a clear set of rules and expectations for your household could help with household management. Having house expectations can allow the parent to customize for their home, such as schedules, screen time, and technology time allotment. An AUP is something the family can work together for better accountability within the home for things like chores and family time, as well as behavior towards one another.