App Title: Total Recall

Publisher or Producer: Indrani Ghatare

Version of App: Only version

Target Audience: 17+

Type(s) of Software: Tool – Users can create stories with vocabulary words.

How does it fit into the curriculum? It is good for learning vocabulary.

Cost or in-app purchases: Free

Description of the Software: This app is designed to give students multiple ways of memorizing words. Users can Google the word in the app to see the definition. It gives opportunities to learn the word by allowing users to write stories or relevant words. Users can also deconstruct the word into meaningful parts.

Impression of the Software: It is useful for helping students remember vocabulary, but we were not that impressed with it because students can just look up the word on Google instead of using the app to look it up on Google. Students can also write stories, relevant words, or deconstruct the word into meaningful parts on their own without having to have this app to do that.

Does the software pass APPS: Yes
