

Here is a template to help guide you through making you Acceptable Use Policy for at home.

An acceptable use policy is a document used to show the rules/practices and consequences of an environment, such as a classroom or workplace, that a user must agree to to continue staying in that environment or to use whatever the AUP is written for.

Come up with a few rules for your home (at least 5-7). Such as:

- No running in the house.
- Only 30-45 minutes of TV before bed.
- Be respectful to your parents.

Come up with some for technology (at least 5-7).

- Only use computer for schoolwork unless we tell you otherwise.
- Only use the websites given to you and approved by your teacher and me (parent).

Make some reasonable consequences for breaking any of the rules.

- Loss of computer time.
- Loss of watching TV.
- No playing with friends outside.

You may add more if you like, this is just a guide to help you start your acceptable use policy for your home. Contact me if you have any questions!!
