I have put these rules in place because they will keep you and your children safe. Some of these rules I set out are enforced by the law, so the will be enforced in my classroom. Some of the words I used in my rules you, or your child, may not understand so I have explained further below.

Plagiarism: Using someone's work that you found and making it your own.

Fair Use: This means that a photo is fair game. You may use it, but you still need to give your source credit.

Copyright: Copyright is when you use someone's work or photos and the owner did not intend for you to use it. These things are usually marked with a watermark.

Please sign the following statement saying that you have read the whole document and agree to everything above.

1,	, parent of,	have read and understand	all of Miss Whitney's rules	and agree to follow these rules while e	enforcing my son/daughter t	to do the same. If I do not follow these	rules I am prepared to accept t	the consequences listed above.		•
